

Multicultural Queensland Advisory Council
Meeting communique
22 November 2016

The Multicultural Queensland Advisory Council met for the third time on 22 November 2016 to review and refine activities for inclusion in the Council work plan for 2017. The work plan will be finalised out-of-session and will inform the direction of the Council's work.

The Council had the opportunity to review and provide feedback on the final draft of the new Queensland Multicultural Policy and Action Plan, and to hear a presentation and discuss potential opportunities for culturally diverse Queenslanders under the Queensland Government's Back to Work Regional Employment Package.

The Council considered proposals for a forward schedule of meetings for 2017. Members agreed to schedule meetings in April and June 2017, and tentatively penciled meetings in for October and December 2017.
